

SHOWTIME

How-to Guide

- If you are ever unable to access ShowTime you may have forgotten to log into Silver Screen Insider.
- At any point in your scrolling through ShowTime you may access the drop down index.

- The index allows you to go directly to any film, article or ad by simply clicking on it.
- Films in ShowTime are arranged according to release date but you can also see them listed by studio or title by clicking on your preference.

- ShowTime is full of links
- You can access official sites for the films.
- You can click in the credits and see the past films for that person.
- Many of the ads have embedded links that will take you to their Website.
- ShowTime is mobile device compatible so you can access it on your smart phone.
- Check back often because as films come off after opening, they are replaced with new films 10-12 weeks out. Other films are updated as new information or graphics become available.
- The new digital ShowTime has retained many of the features from the printed publication but is also adding some new ones like archived articles and online project picture entry.
